Digital Approaches to Research in Humanities and Social Sciences - program

30 October 2019, Aarhus University, building 1485, room 226

Session 1 - "Research standards and collaboration" 9:15 - 9:30 Icebreaker activity
9:30 - 9:55 Trust but verify: implications of the reproducibility crisis on technology and practice in HASS disciplines Shawn Ross
9:55 - 10:20 Lessons learned from Data Analysis projects in Natural Language Processing with Japanese and Security Studies data - Shell Scripts, Jupyter Notebooks, and the value of doctests Brian Ballsun-Stanton
10:20 - 10:45 Epigraphy.info and the Distributed Text Services. Collaboration with standards Pietro Liuzzo

10:45 - 11:00 - Coffee break

Session 2 - "The realities of digital research"
11:00 - 11:25 Raising the dead; technical implications Katrine Frøkjær Baunvig
11:25 - 11:50 DISSINET experiences and challenges in transforming history into spatial and network data Tomáš Hampejs, Adam Mertel
11:50 - 12:15 Some challenges to coordinated, collaborative, and cross-cultural ethnographic work Benjamin Purzycki
12:15 - 12:40 Social media data triangulation - The Danish HPV controversy as an example Marie Louise Tørring

12:40 - 13:30 - Lunch

Session 3 - "Social Dynamics in the Ancient Mediterranean research group showcase" 13:30 - 13:45 Petrified voices: the evolution of the Graeco-Romanepigraphic production in space and time Petra Heřmánková
13:45 - 14:00 Social dynamics in the ancient Mediterranean and the cultural evolution of moralizing religions: a text-mining approach Vojtěch Kaše
14:00 - 14:15 Analysis with graph representation of complex networks in R: the case of Group of Twenty countries Antonio Rivero Ostoic
14:15 - 14:30 Small data - Big Challenges: the goals and mission of the SDAM project Adela Sobotkova

14:30 - 15:00 - Coffee break

15:00 - 16:00 "eResearch speed dating!" social activity & un-conference

CEDHAR SDAM AARHUS UNIVERSITY